Clarification#: 4

Clarification No.	Volume & Section	Question or Comment	Mn/DOT Response
4-1	RFQ 3.2 & 3.6	Will you please clarify the difference between 3.2 Submitter Organization and Experience and 3.6 Submitter Organizational and Project Team Experience? Can those two sections be combined as there seems to be a significant amount of informational overlap, thus causing redundancy of information? This could result in a need to use valuable space that could otherwise be utilized to more effectively demonstrate our team's qualifications.	Section 3.6 will be deleted in the next Addendum.
4-2	RFQ 3.5	Is it correct to assume that the section "3.6 Project Management Approach" as used on prior Design Build projects should now be incorporated in Section 3.5 Project Approach?	Submitters should respond to the instructions in the RFQ as written. It would not be correct to make assumptions based on sections in previous RFQs.
4-3	RFQ 3.3	Is there any reason a person cannot be named as "key personnel" on more than one DB team if that person is not participating in the actual proposal preparation?	No. Key personnel may be named on more than one DB team.
