

Project Update

Work resumes in April 2018 for the I-94: Minneapolis to Brooklyn Center Project including:

- Repairs to two highway bridges
- Painting of the Irene Hixon Whitney Bridge, the pedestrian bridge over I-94 between Loring Park and the Minneapolis Sculpture Garden

All work will be completed by the end of summer 2018.

Benefits

- Restores pavement, provides smoother ride and extends pavement life
- Longer lasting bridges
- Improves highway drainage
- Repainting of the Whitney Bridge extends the life of an artistically-significant bridge

2018 Construction Impacts*

- Highway ramp closures:
 - Ramp from eastbound I-394 to westbound I-94 closed (90 days)
 - Ramp from westbound I-94 to Hwy 55 closed (30 days)
- Local ramp closure:
 - Northbound Lyndale Ave to westbound I-394 and westbound I-94 (50 days)
- I-94 lane restrictions
- Whitney Bridge closed to pedestrians for two months (Late May – Late July)

* Schedule is tentative and subject to change

I-94: Minneapolis to Brooklyn Center is a maintenance and restoration project for a 9-mile stretch of I-94 between Nicollet Avenue in Minneapolis and Shingle Creek Parkway in Brooklyn Center. In 2017, MnDOT resurfaced nine miles of freeway and repaired almost 50 bridges and the Lowry Tunnel. 2018 is the second and final year of the project.
